Dictionarium Anamitico-Latinum

南越洋合字彙

Nam Việt-Dương Hiệp Tự vị

Ed. by A J. L. Taberd, first published in Bengal, India, 1838.

An Nam Đại quốc Hoạ đồ (Tabula geographica imperii Anamitici), 26 x 48.5 cm 1838.

The Taberd dictionary was begun in 1772 by Pigneau de Béhaine (Bá Đa Lộc), and first published outside of Vietnam in 1838 with the help of Philiphê Phan Văn Minh. It is a classic and rare dictionary and occupies a special place in the historical treasure of quốc ngữ and chữ Nôm. This is the second printing after 200 years.

Second publication by the National Studies Center and the Literature Publishing House, Hồ Chí Minh City, 2004.

The dictionary is available by sending a check of $150 US payable to The Vietnamese Nôm Preservation Foundation. Memo: Taberd dictionary.

The purchase is tax deductible.
